This event featured a number of local colleges and universities. Students engaged with admissions representatives, gathered information about programs, financial aid, and campus life. It was a chance for students to ask questions, gather materials, and gain insights that can help shape their college journey.

Current Events in the Classroom:

Our local Meteorologist Mr. Ruggerio used current events in the world to teach students a lesson on hurricanes. By the end of the lesson, the students felt more informed and engaged, understanding the broader implications of Hurricane Milton. Mr. Ruggerio's approach not only educated them about the storm but also fostered a sense of empathy and responsibility towards those affected by natural disasters. It was a lesson that extended beyond the classroom, encouraging them to think critically about the world around them.
